448kHz Action

448 kHz Frequency

Science applied to regeneration and recovery.

Any unsightly imperfection or disorder results in a change in the cell electrical potential. The consequences triggered by this affect our morphology in a highly diverse manner, so we need a precise energy that activates or slows down cell pulse. This rebalancing and regenerating global action recovers the damaged body tissues progressively.

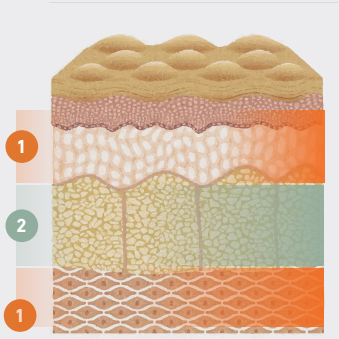

TermoBeauty emits an adequate high-frequency signal of 448 kHz, scientifically supported to achieve intercellular ion mobilisation and action from the heart of the cell. Its modes of application, capacity monopolar and resistive monopolar, allow to reach all tissues, from the dermis to the muscle tissue.

RESISTIVE MONOPOLAR

CAPACITIVE MONOPOLAR

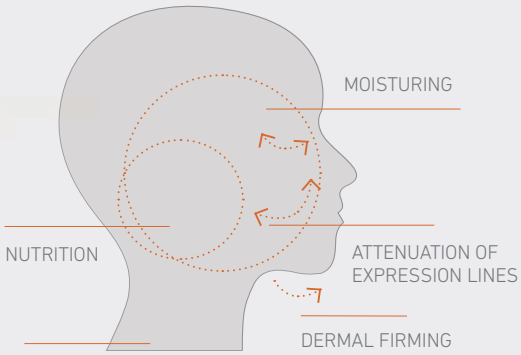

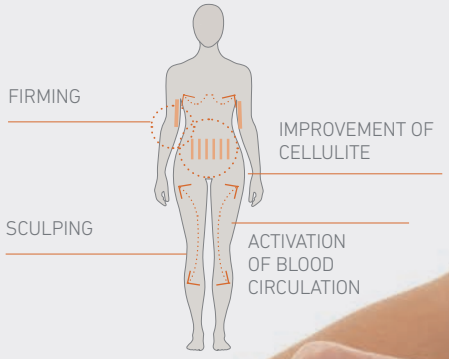

Capacitive application mode	More specific action on tissues with a high composition of water, muscle and soft tissue.	• Tissue redensification. • Helps to restore the balance of the skin's essential functions, promoting moisturing, protection and regeneration.
Resistive application mode	More specific action on dense, fatty and fibrous tissue that offers resistance to the flow of the current.	• Ideal for remodeling and firming treatments. • Improves the appearance of cellulite.

The application modes, 1 capacitive monopolar and 2 resistive monopolar, allow us to reach all tissues, from dermis to fatty tissue.
